Demanding Social Justice for Our Young People

A decade of austerity and the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic have led to an erosion of civil and political liberties in the UK, which has disproportionately affected Gypsy, Roma and Traveller young people. The political decisions taken in response to the pandemic, and in particular the implementation of the Coronavirus Act by the UK government, has further hampered the human rights and dignities of already marginalised communities. Without an urgent course correction from the Government these communities, including Gypsy Roma and Traveller young people, will be left behind.

The current political climate has pitted cultural and social groups against each other, diminished opportunities for young people, and short-changed priority sectors of public policy in favour of the business sector, and it the Government seems determined to ignore the growing race and class inequalities that thrive in the UK.

The Government has additionally failed to properly invest in young people and their future; whether that be their education, the employability, or their housing prospects. This particularly effects Gypsy, Roma and Traveller young people, and the underfunding of priority policy areas such education catch-up tuition programmes has further hampered a minority which is already marginalised. Backwards steps on public policy are being taken at a time when civil liberties, including the right to assemble and protest, are under threat.

The Traveller Movement's 2021 annual conference will explore these complex, interconnected issues and will consider what the future holds for GRT young people; with a particular focus on inequalities in education, gender, employment, economic inclusion, political & civic participation, and overrepresentation in the criminal justice system.

The conference will provide an ideal platform for information sharing, and a vital online space for discussion

Workshops

Workshop 1: If not now, when? Securing positive change in the criminal justice system

Speakers: Auras Marin (Open Doors Education), Pippa Goodfellow (Alliance for Youth Justice), Louise King (Just for Kids Law), Caroline Liggins (Hodge, Jones & Allen Solicitors)

In this workshop, we will explore the changes, problems, and upcoming reform in the youth justice system. We will continue the conversation on school exclusions and aim to understand in-depth, how the school-to-prison pipeline impacts Gypsy, Roma, and Traveller children in the youth justice system. In light of the challenges, we will consider what is on the horizon in terms of youth justice reform, how individuals and charities can push for change in an ever more carceral environment, and how these changes specifically impact Gypsy, Roma, and Traveller youth

Workshop 3: Building the Road to Success

Speakers: Millie Cooper/Phil Reagan (Traveller Movement), Sally Carr (National Youth Agency), Paul Schofield (Department for Digital, Culture, Media & Sport)

Gypsies, Roma and Travellers are the ethnic groups with both the highest rate of unemployment and highest rate of economic inactivity. Only 40% of GRT aged 16-64 were employed, compared to 71% of the wider population. (Burchardt et al., 2018). The barriers to Gypsy, Roma and Traveller youth to find sustainable education, employment, or training are complex and require immediate attention from the government and the youth sector. This workshop will introduce an ongoing piece of work into understanding how the Gypsy, Roma and Traveller sector and mainstream youth services are delivering youth provision; and explore how youth services can be tailored going forward to meet the needs of Gypsy, Roma and Traveller young people

Workshop 2: 'The Shame Game': Gender, healthy relationships and abuse in the digital environment

Speakers: Christina Kerrigan (Traveller Movement), Hilary Watson (Glitch), , Sophie Maskell (Domestic Abuse Commissioner)

More than 1 in 2 girls have experienced online harassment (Plan International 2020). 'Image-based abuse', stalking and domestic violence are all forms of gender-based violence and perpetrators are increasingly using online tools to abuse their victims. Women and girls from the Gypsy, Roma and Traveller communities face additional harms and barriers to support. In this workshop, we will examine the impact of these additional harms – such as 'shaming' or 'scandalising' – and the barriers to accessing much needed support. Through an exploration of digital safety, online harm and healthy relationships, we will brainstorm how to create a safer online environment for women and girls in the Gypsy, Roma and Traveller communities

Workshop 4: Access Denied

Speakers: Ben Smoke (HUCK magazine), Virgil Bitu (Drive2Survive), Luke Smith (GRT Socialists)

The Gypsy Roma Traveller youth community face significant institutional barriers that often prevent full and fulfilling participation in civic life. This workshop will explore nature of these obstacles, and how they impact upon young GRT people at the ballot box and beyond. We will assess how to promote and encourage participation in democratic life and political activism; and consider how we can build capacity in our communities to ensure all young people are empowered and equipped to advocate for positive social change
